Prof. G.S. Bajpai addressed the audience in 'Data for Justice: A Colloquium on Criminal Justice in India' on 7 Setpember 2024

The Data for Justice Colloquium held at the Constitution Club of India on the 7th and 8th of September 2024, brought together scholars, practitioners, and policymakers to discuss the intersection of data, technology, and criminal justice in India. The colloquium was organised by National Law University Delhi (through the SK Malik chair on Access to Justice) in collaboration with the India Justice Report and covered various topics related to the collection, management, and use of data in the Indian criminal justice system.

In his address Prof. G.S.Bajpai talked about the significant role played by data in creating a criminal justice system committed to the values of justice and fairness. The event highlighted the importance of dynamic data and collaboration for a more equitable justice system and was attended by various legal luminaries.
